

≡ Lucas Cardoso - Web Developer

Hi! I'm a web developer, I'm 22 years old and I'm passionate about developing websites, seeking the satisfaction of my clients. In 2019, together with my wife, we founded a virtual beachwear brand Vivaz Brand where I had the pleasure of leading projects and collaborators, so I had the first contacts with this world of website development optimizing the designers with CSS to meet the necessary specificity of the brand. with the help of component bookstores such as Bootstrap.

since then I have gained a lot of experience in facilitating relationship processes between the commerce and the customer where we must be very careful from the first visit to the return of the customer for the next purchase, thus increasing the number of fans of your products.

In projects, I always focus on a design that provides an easy understanding for users to find the services they need, facilitating conversions of products or services displayed on the site.

I use react to develop dynamic and responsive websites where I have some course certificates Building an Interface, Advanced React.
